I really enjoy getting your replies to my email. Please let me know what's going on in your world. If appropriate comments it will be posted to website. <http://canamnet7153.com/members-comments/> At least send me a quick "HI I got your email" or "dit dah dit" like one member! LOL. I hope you can share what is going on in your world which will be shared to all members via the website. This is our net and our website. Thanks for taking the time to read this email newsletter and to respond.

This weekend was the Yuri Gagarin International DX Contest (CW, phone) . I made a few CW contacts. If you want to stay tuned to what contests are coming up go to WA7BNM's website <https://www.contestcalendar.com/weeklycont.php>

Here's what's going on in K2KA's world:. Well it's still cold and we got 2" snow Sat. The snow is melting very quickly. The PC is still running great after the Win 11 upgrade. I had to update and eventually delete some old drivers that windows security didn't like so I could enable device security and eventually memory integrity. I can say now I am done with PC stuff. For more info about me, check out my website and you can see my station, pics and other info at http://

CW is my favorite mode

NB Marconi Towers

There's an effort underway to save some of Marconi's original towers, and an online poll is open for people to vote on it being a restoration project through the "Next Great Save" project from the National Trust for Canada. Some of Marconi's first messages were received and transmitted using the Battle Harbour Marconi Towers, thought to be the last of their kind standing in North America. News of Admiral Robert Peary's 1909 North Pole expedition was transmitted by these towers. After 100 years, the twin towers are in need of repair. See the above website for picture and details.

The April 13th, 2025 1TCI (1st time check ins) and CRL (Callsign Cross Reference List) have been updated and attached in pdf and xlsx to the email. Thanks to Doug VE3DVC both lists have been shortened and improved. The CRL is up on the website.
